26 SKIRMISH UNITS GATHER FOR "SHOOT"

Members of 26 companies from Jersey and Virginia will take part in the North-South Invitational Skirmish Sunday afternoon at Teeter's Quarry.

Units of the shoot arrived Friday afternoon and encamped on the battlefield near Spangler's Spring in preparation for the activities sponsored by the Gettysburg Travel Council and Company K, local North-South Skirmish Association affiliate. Most of the companies will arrive this morning and afternoon to encamp on the field.

Among the units is a new nearby outfit, "Company D, 8th Pennsylvania Reserves," from Chambersburg.

"Blue-Gray" Ball Tonight

At 6 o'clock this evening a meeting will be held at the bivouac area to outline the events for Sunday. At 8 o'clock the North-South Skirmish men, garbed in Civil War uniforms and their ladies, dressed in the hoop skirts of 96 years ago, will take part in a "Blue-Gray Ball" at the Hotel Gettysburg Pressroom. While the dancing in the pressroom will be confined to the North-South Skirmish group, arrangements are being made for spectators to watch from a roped off area.

Sunday morning reveille will be at 7 o'clock. At 11 o'clock the group will proceed to Teeter's Quarry where equipment will be available for the construction of targets by the various units.

To Parade Sunday

At noon Sunday the 26 units will mass in parade formation some distance from the range at Teeter's Quarry and then will parade at 12:45 o'clock to the firing line.

Six events are scheduled for the afternoon. The first will be volley fire at still targets. The second event will be rapid fire at clay birds; the third, rapid fire at hanging targets. Fourth, rapid fire stake cutting. The last two events are cannon fire. The first will be five shot volleys and the second rapid fire at still targets.

At 4:45 o'clock the units will form on the 50-yard line for award of ribbons and prizes and then take part in a field charge and salute to the flag concluding the event.

To Use 8 Cannon

Fire police will be on duty Sunday afternoon at Teeter's Quarry to direct cars of spectators and participants to a parking area near the shooting line. The auxiliary of the fire department will have a refreshment stand behind the lines.

Fairfield PTA To Meet On Tuesday

The Fairfield Joint School System PTA will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria, when the testing program of the school system will be discussed. This will include preschool, elementary and high school tests. The discussion will be led by George Inskip, Mr. Straup and Mr. Reinhold.

A questionnaire has been prepared by the committee which is to be returned to the school by Tuesday. It concerns the type of program which members would like to have the PTA present and to find out if they are sufficiently interested in the PTA to continue the organization.

Commercialization Of Battlefield Continues To Lure More Protesters

Two additional protests against the commercialization of the Gettysburg Battlefield have been received by the editor of The Gettysburg Times:

"Several weeks ago I took the liberty of writing to you concerning the sale of a portion of the Battlefield of Gettysburg for commercial purposes.

"Naturally, being much closer to the problems involved than I am, I would not blame you for representing outside interference in this matter. My excuse for doing so is this: I feel that Gettysburg and all that it implies belongs not only to the residents of Adams County but to all the people of our great country. Must dollars and cents be the only guide and the only thing that matters in this case? Can there be no other way to solve this problem?

"Something Can Be Done"

"If enough Americans feel strongly enough about saving our great battlefield I am sure that something can be done to do so. You, as editor of the local newspaper, can do a great deal to influence the citizens of Ad-

TO ORGANIZE GREAT BOOKS STUDY GROUP

The first meeting for this fall of the Great Books study group will be held next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Adams Electric Cooperative building off N. Stratton St. This will be a reorganization meeting and Dr. Francis C. Mason of the Gettysburg College faculty will be in charge of the study of the first great book on this season's list: Homer's "Odyssey."

The local study group has finished the list of great books planned for the first two years of study and is one of more than 1,500 such groups operating from coast to coast in cooperation with the Great Books Foundation. The only cost is the voluntary purchase of the reading materials. Through group purchases the books for this year are available at $9.25 per set.

The list of books for this year will include: "The Oresteia" by Aeschylus; "History of the Peloponnesian War" by Thucydides; "Ethics" by Aristotle; the first eight books of Augustine's "Confessions"; St. Thomas Aquinas' "Treatise on Law"; Dante's "Divine Comedy"; selections from Montaigne's "Essays"; "Analects" by Confucius; "Institutes of the Christian Religion" by John Calvin; the first two books of Rousseau's "The Social Contract"; Voltaire's "Candide"; Dostoyevsky's "The Brothers Karamazov"; Melville's "Moby Dick"; Mill's "On Liberty"; and Freud's "The Origin and Development of Psychoanalysis."

The Great Books Foundation lists these main purposes of the Great Books program: "to keep alive the common heritage of thought, sensibility and faith which finds expression in the great books of our tradition; to give men through reading and discussing the great books a richer comprehension of what the good life can be, and to help them, here and now, to lead the good life for themselves, their community and their nation."

SIX WORKERS INVOLVED IN STRIKE FUSS

Assault and battery and malicious mischief charges have been filed against two non-striking employees of Hanover Made Furniture Co., Hanover, and three pickets as the Upholsterers International Union enters its fourth week of strike against the company.

Donald Brown was accused by Robert Swartz, both of Hanover, of attempting to run Swartz over with an automobile, causing injuries to Swartz's leg. Brown was released under $500 bail to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Y. Naill Jr.

William Muntz and Francis Kuhn, both of Hanover, two other pickets, have charged Leo Favorite, McSherrystown, with assault and battery following an incident at the plant Wednesday morning. Favorite was released under $1,000 bail to await a hearing before Naill.

Swartz, Kuhn and Alfred Arndt, 452 South Washington St., Gettysburg, a third picket, were accused of malicious mischief as the result of an egg throwing incident at the plant Wednesday afternoon.

Cars Are Spattered

Several company employees' cars were "spattered with eggs and egg shells," according to Deputy Sheriff Clair L. Bollinger, who runs Bollinger Detective Agency, Hanover. Bollinger was hired by the furniture company to keep order at the plant during the strike.

The three were released under $500 each to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy.

Breaking down of negotiations over an initial contract at the firm last month resulted in picketing by members of the Local 465 Upholsterers' Union at the Hanover plant since September 30. The union was certified as bargaining agent for about 95 employees in March.

Hanover and state police are joining in an investigation following reports from the company that 20 bedroom suites stored in the plant's shipping department were damaged early this month, causing a loss of about $10,000.

Complaints have also been received by police that tacks and nails have been thrown in private driveways and near automobiles to cause flat tires.

FRESH PORK IN ABUNDANCE ON FARMER'S MART

Fresh pork was in abundance at the Farmers' Market this morning. Pork tenderloin brought $1 a pound; sausage, 60 cents a pound; ribs and backbone, 50 cents a pound; sliced fresh ham, 70 cents a pound; fresh bacon, 45 cents a pound; and hog maws, 60 cents a pound.

In addition, there was fresh scrapple at 30 cents a pound; shoulder roast at 50 cents a pound; and pigs' feet at 15 cents each, or 55 cents for a set of four. Butt ends of cured ham were available at 60 cents a pound.

Other products on sale included: potato salad, 25 cents a pint; sweet potatoes, 30 cents a box; turnips, 20 cents a box; lettuce, 10 cents a box, and string beans, 20 cents a box. Lima beans were available at 35 cents a pint; endive, 10 cents a stalk; pumpkins, 10 cents and up; red potatoes, 20 cents a box, 50 cents a half peck.

Other Products

Apples, including Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Smokehouse, McIntosh, Paradise, Jonathan, Grimes Golden, and Stayman sold for $1.25 a half bushel. Dried sweet apples were available for 30 cents a quart.

Butter was 65 cents a pound; cream 20 cents a half pint, 40 cents a pint; buttermilk sold at 15 cents a quart; cup cheese, 30 cents a pint, and cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint.

Gourds were 5 cents each; parsley 5 cents a bunch; peppers, 7 for 5 cents and 5 cents each; red beets 15 cents a box; homemade pies 15 to 60 cents each; and cakes, 65 cents to $1.25 each.

Various jellies were on sale at 25 cents a jar; apple butter, 60 cents a quart, 40 cents a pint and 25 cents a half pint.

Dressed chickens were 50 cents a pound. Egg prices ranged from 20 cents for bantams and 25 cents for pullets, to 60 and 65 cents for oversize eggs.

A number of different flowers were available at 25 cents a bouquet.

HOME IS SOLD

The Associated Acceptance Corp., Philadelphia, has sold a dwelling at Beecherstown in Butler Twp. to Herman H. and Anna Mary Keefe, Gettysburg R. 4. Immediate possession is being given. Harry D. Ridinger, local realtor, made the sale.

Van Doren Sees The District Attorney

TV quiz winner Charles Van Doren, left, and his attorney Carl J. Rubino leave the office of District Attorney Frank Hogan in New York after an unexpected appearance. Hogan said that Van Doren made a statement to Hogan's office last year "which he now acknowledges was not correct."

Two Big Winners In Quiz Change Statements To D.A.

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren and Hank Bloomgarden, two top money winners, have revised their original statements about the television quiz show "Twenty-One."

Both men showed up voluntarily but separately at Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office Friday. Hogan said the changes they made were "substantial" but declined to specify just what they were.

Hogan said the possibility of perjury action is being considered but that nothing would be done until after Van Doren appears Nov. 2 in Washington before a House subcommittee investigating TV quiz shows.

Van Doren, 33-year-old English instructor at Columbia University who won $129,000 on "Twenty-One", appeared first at Hogan's office with his attorney, Carl J. Rubino. He spent about an hour with Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph Stone, who had investigated the rigging of quiz shows. Then he talked several minutes with Hogan.

Amplify Earlier Statement

About three hours later, Bloomgarden, a 30-year-old public relations consultant who won $98,500 on the show, appeared at Hogan's office. He said he was there to sign and read a statement he had given Oct. 5 to amplify an earlier statement about the program. Hogan said Bloomgarden's case was "quite similar" to Van Doren's.

"The question of whether either one will go before another grand jury is undecided," Hogan said.

Both Van Doren and Bloomgarden had said earlier that they were not involved in any rigging of the "Twenty-One" show, an NBC program that is no longer on the air.

Negotiators Resume Steel Strike Bargaining Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel negotiators return to the bargaining table today under orders to try for a speedy settlement of the 102-day-old nationwide steel strike.

Both sides are under mounting pressure to end the dispute, but neither the industry nor the United Steelworkers would comment on possibilities of a new offer being made.

The government already has obtained a Taft-Hartley injunction to send the 500,000 strikers back to the mills for 90 days. But the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals blocked enforcement of the injunction pending outcome of a union appeal.

Court Urges Settlement

But the court directed both sides to make every effort to settle the strike by collective bargaining while the appeal was being studied. A court ruling on the appeal is expected early next week.

The meeting is the first since joint negotiations collapsed last week in Washington.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said he was gratified to see the two parties resume peace talks. He urged "around the clock" negotiations until the dispute is settled.

The union was first to suggest reopening of negotiations. USW President David J. McDonald sent telegrams to 96 steel companies, inviting them to meet with union committees in Pittsburgh Monday.

Meet This Afternoon

A short time later the 12 big companies of the steel industry proposed that the union meet today with the industry's four-man team that has been doing most of the negotiating for the industry since contract talks started last May.

After some hesitation, the union agreed to an afternoon meeting. But McDonald said the union still plans to meet with the 96 firms separately Monday if they agree. The 96 companies all are closed by the strike and were named as defendants along with the union in the government petition for a Taft-Hartley injunction. The companies, however, did not oppose the injunction.

Workout Has Halted Nearly

90 per cent of the nation's steel-making facilities. Close to 275,000 workers in allied industries have been furloughed because of the strike. Wage and production losses have soared into billions of dollars.

LICENSED TO MARRY

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: James E. Gulden, son of Mrs. Iona Gulden, Hanover and Shirley Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Smith, Hanover; Robert A. J. Poiras, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Poiras, South Deer Isle, Me., and Nancy Deborah Dingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Dingle, Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

WILL NOMINATE

Mrs. Mervin Murray, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley, Littlestown, and Mrs. Charles E. Kuhn, Cashtown, have been appointed to the nominating committee for the Adams County Home Auxiliary. They will present a report at the next meeting of auxiliary on Tuesday, November 10.

Are Transferred

Deeds have been filed in the office of the register and recorder for property transfers as follows: Robert A. Spangler, McSherrystown, to Charles E. and Pauline S. Heage, McSherrystown, a lot in McSherrystown, $3,000.

Gulf Oil Corp., to Merle P. and Jacqueline M. Rudisill, Gettysburg, a lot in Gettysburg, $13,500.

J. Hugh and L. Bernadette Warrenfeltz, Highfield, Md., to John A. Dewick and Philip H. Sachs, both of Baltimore, two tracts in Liberty Twp., $12,500.

Annie E. Naugle, Wilkingsburg, to Lovina Hoff, York Springs, a lot in York Springs, $6,000.

Fireless Research

Fireless research on the part of the author revealed incidents involving a number of Gettysburgians of the day, many of whom have descendants in the area today. Notable among these are such names as Virginia Wade, John and Henry Wentz, R. F. McIlheny, Mary and Martha McAllister, Peter Culp, Wesley Culp, Mrs. Peter Thorn and Peter Roger and family.

The War Department prepared, especially for this volume, three large-size maps (25" x 32") of the Gettysburg Battlefield. The maps are reproductions of the famous Bacheider maps of 1876, which show the position of the troops, Union and Confederate, for the first, second, and third days of the battle. The maps are particularly useful as they are co-ordinated with the events unfolded within the book allowing the reader to follow the action, thus adding to understanding and enjoyment.

The author, whose father fought at Chickamauga, is a Civil War buff by inheritance. He attended the University of Georgia and the University of Pennsylvania. During World War I, he served overseas as an infantry captain, and was a "retired" in the Army Air Corps of World War II. For many years he was engaged in advertising. Now retired he lives in Rosemont, Pa.

PUBLISH THREE MAPS WITH NEW BATTLE BOOK

Another book is available to Civil War buffs and general readers of the subject. The latest, "The Shaping of a Battle: Gettysburg," is written with intricate detail, feeling and precision, all of which promote a "you were there" awareness.

The author, James Stuart Montgomery, undertook a rather unique approach to the subject. Instead of tracing the fortunes of the Confederate troops, or "marching" along with the Union soldiers, he attempted "a picture in the round."

Montgomery reports the widespread and varied movements of both great forces on the roaring battlefield. This historic panorama is artfully laced with a number of vignettes, heretofore little known "personal experiences," which play a moving part in the make-up of the over-all situation.

Ruritans Hosting Convention Today

The Hunterstown Ruritan Club held its October dinner meeting on Friday evening at the parish hall of "The Pines" Lutheran Church, near New Chester, with 30 members and guests present.

Final plans for the Maryland District convention being held at the Hotel Gettysburg today were discussed during the business meeting conducted by President Oren H. Wilson. These call for members of the host Hunterstown Club to be available during the day to direct the visiting Ruritans to designated parking areas as well as various spots of historical interest. Members' wives are also planning to serve at an information bureau in the hotel lobby during the day.

It was decided members of the club will attend services at the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church in Hunterstown on Sunday, November 8.

Dr. Robert D. Barnes of the Gettysburg College faculty was the club's speaker for the evening. He discussed the library tax referendum appearing on the November ballot and urged its favorable consideration by all county voters. Other club visitors were Melvin Tressler and Charles Wilman.

SEP Editor To Be On WGET Program

An interview with Ashley Halsey Jr., an associate editor of The Saturday Evening Post and organizer of one of the first North-South Skirmish units, will be held on WGET this afternoon or evening in connection with the nationwide organization which recreates units of the Civil War.

Halsey is here this weekend with the Hampton Legion, one of the units taking part in the skirmish here. Halsey is also co-author of a recent Saturday Evening Post article entitled "Let's Not Surrender Our Battlefields," describing efforts being made to save a number of Civil War battlefields, including Gettysburg, at the present time.

Have No Trace Of Missing Wilbur Carl

Borough police do not suspect foul play in the Monday disappearance of Wilbur Carl, Wormleysburg. An investigation and search following a request by Carl's sister, Mrs. Vivian Landis, Wormleysburg, revealed he apparently left the Gettysburg area, where he had come to work voluntarily. Carl left most of his clothing and personal effects in a York St. room he occupied. Also left behind was a car which is in the name of a member of his family. Police have no trace of his whereabouts.

11 PROGRAMS WILL BE GIVEN AT ST. JOSEPH

The 1959-1960 Lecture and Concert Program, jointly sponsored by St. Joseph College and Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, was announced today. Each program will be presented in De Paul Auditorium, St. Joseph College, at 7:30 p.m. The schedule follows:

October 26: Concert by Michel Senechal, French tenor. M. Senechal was the winner of the 1952 international competition in Geneva. Included in his repertoire will be classical airs of Gretry, Couperin, and Gluck; and modern expressions of Bartok, de Falla, Debussy, Honegger, Ravel and Stravinsky.

November 2: Lecture by Senator Eugene J. McCarthy. The speaker has achieved success as a high school teacher, a sociology professor, a writer, a lecturer, and a politician. He is well-equipped to give an authoritative view of "The Catholic in World Affairs."

November 12: Organ Concert by Bill Thomson. Critics agree that, at the organ, Bill Thomson demonstrates a precise technique, a creative imagination and an interpretive feeling which far exceeds his 29 years. Special Service At Seminary Tuesday

The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary will hold a Reformation service Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of the Abiding Presence, seminary campus. Dr. Theodore G. Tappert, professor of church history at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Tappert is a well-known author and historian. He has written several works on church history including "The Church Through the Ages," "Our Neighbor's Churches," "Luther's Spiritual Counsel." He served as a research consultant for the motion picture "Martin Luther."

The seminary choir, under the direction of Robert S. Clippinger, will sing several selections. The liturgist will be Frederick Weiser, a member of the Senior class and an instructor in the Department of Bible at Gettysburg College. The public is invited to attend.

Cumberland's Planning Board Gives Report To Citizens On Its Aims, Purposes, Problems

Cumberland Twp. residents Wednesday received by mail from the chairman of their planning commission, Col. Thomas H. Nixon, a report explaining "the aims and purposes of your Planning Commission," and explaining why the supervisors plan to change the "set back ordinance" at a special meeting Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the township secretary, Lawrence Heltzel, Gettysburg R. 3.

Colonel Nixon held that Cumberland, which passed an ordinance prohibiting the construction of buildings of signs within 150 feet of Battlefield avenues, is changing the ordinance to make the distance 50 feet because "Cumberland Township alone cannot be expected to preserve the battlefield when Gettysburg, which derives the largest financial benefit from tourists, does nothing."

Nixon explained, however, that plans of the township to zone is not based primarily on preservation of the Battlefield, but rather to protect the individual residents and home owners of the community.

Colonel Nixon's report follows: "Not 'Primary' Consideration

"In order that those old and new citizens of Cumberland Township, who have made, and plan to continue to make, their homes in our township, may be factually informed of the aims and purposes of your Planning Commission, this report is submitted.

"In all publicity, to date, undue emphasis has been placed on preserving the Battlefield. While your commission feels that such preservation has great potential value to our community, it represents but one of many elements to be considered. It definitely is not the primary consideration. An effort was made in that portion of the building-line ordinance pertaining to Battlefield avenues to prevent commercialization immediately. (Please Turn To Page 7)

FREEDOM TWP. CONSIDERING NEW MEASURE

Freedom Twp. will consider again an ordinance banning disposal of garbage and debris in the township, according to a legal notice appearing in The Gettysburg Times. George Glenn, secretary-treasurer of the Freedom Twp. supervisors, said they will consider a no-dumping ordinance Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at a meeting at the home of James H. Trussell, Gettysburg R. 2.

Other current business that may come before the supervisors will also be heard at

OYLER RITES HELD TODAY

With the members of borough council, the burgess and other borough officials as honorary pallbearers, funeral services were held this afternoon for Harry M. "Happy" Oyler, borough councilman for 23 years and president of the town council for the last 16 years.

Death came to the 58-year-old businessman and councilman Wednesday afternoon following a heart attack at his home on Fairview Ave. He had suffered a prior attack in September.

His pastor, the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, officiated at the services in the Bender Funeral Home this afternoon at 2 o'clock assisted by the Rev. J. Harold Mowen. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers included Burgess Wilbur L. Plank, Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit, Borough Treasurer Harry D. Ridinger and Councilmen Glenn Guise, Harold Ecker, George Naugle, Mahlon P. Hartzell Sr., John Welschence, Robert Fidler, Philip M. Jones and M. Hardy Nichols.

Active pallbearers included George Miller, Mares Sherman, Glenn L. Bream, David Weller, Richard Fox, H. T. Jennings, Ray M. Hoffman and C. W. Epley, the latter two of whom are former members of borough council.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchison, R. 5, and Mr. and Mrs. David Garfinkle, Fairview Ave. spent Thursday in New York City on business.

The Civic Nursing Association held its annual meeting Friday at the YWCA. Mrs. Milton Rempel, second vice president, presided in the absence of Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, president.

The following officers were re-elected: Rev. Dr. Fox, president; Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, first vice president; Mrs. Rempel, second vice president; Mrs. George Forney, secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Evans, treasurer. The following directors were re-elected: Dr. W. R. Sammel, Mrs. Donald Myers, Mrs. George Eberhart, Miss Margaret Howard, Mrs. David Blocher, Mrs. Jessie Easterday, Mrs. E. J. Bowman, Miss Anna McSherry, Mrs. Edgar Deardorff, Mrs. Frederick Tilberg, Mrs. Raymond Sheely, Mrs. Roy Hammond, Dr. J. C. Donley, Mrs. Wilmer Roth, Mrs. Fred Pfeiffer and Mrs. Charles Weaver. The nurse's report revealed that Mrs. Julia Holtzworth, visiting nurse, made 508 home visits during the year.

PLAN CONFERENCE

Leaders of 4-H Clubs in Adams County have been invited to attend a Southeast District 4-H Leaders Conference on "Understanding Youth" to be held at the Hotel Yorktown, York, on November 19 and 20. Mrs. Helen D. Tunison, county extension home economist, has announced. Those planning to attend are to notify Mrs. Tunison by November 2.

NAB MANY VIOLATORS

A number of motorists were apprehended for parking violations Friday night. Chief Jack Bartlett said he did not know the exact number but said "a large number" were "caught." All meters in town are in operation Friday and Saturday evenings until 10 o'clock.

GIVEN DIVORCE

Mrs. Mary C. Miller, Shippensburg R. 2, has been granted a divorce from Everett Miller, of Bendersville, in Cumberland County court at Carlisle on grounds of desertion. They were married in Hagerstown in June, 1943. Mrs. Miller was given custody of the couple's seven children. The Millers formerly resided in Gettysburg.

CODE VIOLATOR

Robert P. Kebl, 37, Gettysburg, has been charged with reckless driving in an information filed before Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy, Hanover.

BURN BARN TO PRACTICE AID

Five civilian fire companies and the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot Fire Department will deliberately burn up a government building next Tuesday thereby saving several hundred dollars for the Navy.

The planned "arson" will also enable volunteer firemen from throughout the Mechanicsburg area to practice mutual aid procedures they have worked out with the depot department during the last 12 years.

Depot firefighters will touch off the blaze in the condemned one-story, wood-framed structure at 7:45 p.m. Depot Fire Chief Gilbert U. Rupp said he expects flames from the outside "tinder box," almost half as large as the depot's warehouses, will torch-light most of the West Shore area.

"Volunteer companies from Shiremanstown, Camp Hill, Lemoyne and Lower Allen and Hampden Twp. will report on call," Chief Rupp said, "to practice on an actual fire the cooperative firefighting methods we began developing almost as soon as the depot was built."

Fire companies in Silver Spring and New Cumberland will be on a standby alert.

The temporary structure, built from salvaged lumber and wall board in 1942 to house a machine shop and subsequently converted into a wood-working shop, has not been used for several months.

It would cost more to have the building torn down than it will to burn it.

Amvets' Auxiliary Installation Held

The Charles J. Gilland Amvets Auxiliary Post 172, Fairfield, met at the post home Tuesday evening. Guests present were Mrs. Ella Mae Denlinger, state P.R.O. and historian, and Mrs. Caroline Siple, the installing officer from Lancaster. The following officers were installed:

President, Mrs. Charlotte McDannell; senior vice president, Mrs. Maybelle McClain; junior vice president, Mrs. Eva Riley; secretary, Mrs. Faye Baker; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Bushman; chaplain, Mrs. Sara Ann Shultz; P.R.O. and historian, Mrs. Lena Crisp; liaison officer, Mrs. Mary Bentz; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Nettie Shultz, and state executive committee officer, Mrs. Blanche Harris.

Mrs. Bertie Sloat, the past president, was presented with the past president's pin by the installing officer.

The past president, Mrs. Sloat, then made awards to: Clyde Sloat and Eugene Sites and the following past officers who served with her: Charlotte McDannell, Eva Riley, Maybelle McClain, Mary Bentz, Alice Bushman, Rita Weber, Lotie Cool and Lena Crisp.

Mrs. Mary Bentz won the "pig-in-the-poke" and Mrs. Bertie Sloat won the door prize. Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned until November 17.

FACES CODE CHARGE

Gettysburg police charged Charles A. Brown, Hanover, with reckless driving this morning after he drove his car into a street repair site on York St. He was uninjured and there was little damage to the car.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Simon Shank, Gettysburg, and Nancy Ann Landis, York, have filed application for a marriage license in York.

MATTRESS FIRE IS CONVENIENT

Gettysburg firemen responded to an alarm at 12:30 o'clock this morning and extinguished a fire without moving a piece of equipment.

Arriving at the engine house on E. Middle St., the firemen found the blaze was in a third floor room of the Slentz House, two doors from the engine house on E. Middle St.

They rushed to the scene, up the two flights of stairs and found a number of persons throwing bucketsful of water on a blazing mattress in the room of Alden Shultz.

The firemen grabbed corners of the mattress, opened a window and heaved the blazing article out the window.

On the sidewalk below, other firemen extinguished the blaze and then put the mattress, of which about one-third had burned, in the rear yard of the boarding house.

Fire Chief Donald Staub and Assistant Frank Linn and Robert Hartman said it is believed a cigarette may have started the blaze.

held in the student center where, because of limited seating capacity, the program will be open only to students and guests by special invitation. Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Waters will read a play especially adapted for the occasion. They will entertain with the experimental "Readers' Theater" technique pioneered by Charles Laughton and the First Drama Quartet.

January 5, 1960: Concert by Stecher and Horowitz. Music lovers and critics find a double thrill in the masterly piano renditions of Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz. Audiences respond to the special quality of projection that emanates from these two pianists.

Chorus And Dancers

February 9, 1960: Lecture by the Rev. Harold C. Gardiner, S.J. The speaker is the author of a number of books including "Norms for the Novel" and "Fifty Years of the American Novel." He presently serves as literary editor of the Jesuit magazine "America" and as editorial chairman of the Catholic Book Club.

February 24, 1960: Concert by the Don Cosack Chorus and Dancers. This chorus of musical giants and group of unexcelled dancers preserve the depth of Russian culture and music and bring it to the American stage. While citizens of the United States for 19 years, the group still retains the verve and vivacity of their native land.

March 8, 1960: Lecture by the Rev. Alan Keenan, O.F.M. The speaker is the author of "Neuroses and Sacraments," "Family Limitations," and co-author of "Marriage: A Medical and Sacramental Study." He is a well-known sociologist and lecturer in the British Isles. His analysis of "The Modern Sickness: Its Symptoms and Cures," includes a discussion of the "beat generation," the spread of mental illness, the success of religious revivalists, and the "cure" of communism.

Will Present Opera

March 22, 1960: Drama by Players Incorporated. The Players Incorporated return again to DePaul stage with William Shakespeare's exciting and ever-entertaining "Macbeth." The group is known for its newness of approach and its outstanding technical arrangements of scenery, lighting and costumes.

March 29, 1960: Lecture by the Rev. Gustave Weigel, S. J. The speaker is a noted lecturer, professor of ecclesiology, Woodstock College, School of Divinity. He has selected for his topic "Eumenics - Old and New World."

April 25, 1960: "Die Fledermaus" by the National (Grass Roots) Opera Company. The company captures all the humor, freshness and romance of Johann Strauss in their English presentation of "Die Fledermaus." The cast's animated interpretations of the adventurous entanglements bespeak their vast opera experience in this country and abroad.

Breaks His Back As He Changes Tire

Carl Schutt, 111 King St., suffered a fracture of his back this morning while changing a tire on an auto at his home. A jack which Mr. Schutt had placed under a rear wheel of the car is reported to have slipped and Mr. Schutt fell to the ground as he attempted to check the motion of the car. He was taken to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg ambulance. X-rays there revealed the fracture.

PARATROOPER GETTING WELL; FELL 1,250 FT.

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — The 19-year-old freckle-faced paratrooper looked up from his wheelchair and said "I'm pretty lucky."

Francis J. Dolaher thinks his luck arrived the day he made his ninth jump with the 101st Airborne Division.

His parachute opened only five feet instead of the usual 32, and Dolaher plunged 1,250 feet to earth, landing a mass of broken bones and internal injuries. He received last rites—twice. But he lived.

That was 80 days ago. Now Dolaher is 70 pounds below his normal 183, but expecting to walk with only a stiff ankle after another year of treatment.

"God With Me" Dolaher says "God was with me, I guess. Up till then, I'd just been average lucky — You know, I'd never win things at the amusement park or anything."

After his fall "it took me a while to get used to the idea" of being alive. "But as long as I was alive, I decided to stay alive."

What caused the near-tragedy?

In Dolaher's words: "I don't know if I blacked out or what. First thing I remember is: I looked up and saw my parachute lines were twisted. I tried to shake them out but before I could do anything I hit the ground."

Finish Enlistment Dolaher, a private, wants to finish a three-year enlistment that began in June of 1958 with the 101st. His home is Charlestown, Mass.

And although he's resigned to no more jumping, he sighed:

A Halloween party was held in conjunction with the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran Church Thursday evening in the church social hall. Eighteen members and two visitors were in attendance. Costume prizes were won by Rebecca Spangler, prettiest; Mrs. George Trump, ugliest; Mrs. William C. Karns, most original, and Mrs. Albert Starner, last to be guessed.

Mrs. Allie Hollinger and Mrs. Grace Harget were in charge of the program, which included group singing; responsive reading, led by Mrs. Hollinger; prayer, Mrs. William J. Lippy; Halloween story by Mrs. Starner; Halloween poems by the members; Lord's Prayer in unison. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Lloyd Spangler, president. The birthdays of Mrs. Lillie Shryock, Mrs. Oliver Erb, Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mrs. Joseph Selby, Mrs. Lloyd Spangler and Mrs. Henry Barnes were noted.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 19, when the program will be in charge of Mrs. Paul O. Hawk and Mrs. James Duttera and the hostesses will be Mrs. W. C. Karns, Mrs. Fred W. King and Mrs. Kenneth W. Miller.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George W. Strevig, Mrs. Joseph Selby, Mrs. Paul Bowers and Mrs. Donald Reaver.

The Frogtown Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Robert Gitt, Littlestown R. 2, Thursday evening. Mrs. C. Aaron Rohrbaugh presented the topic "Winter Dish Gardens, Terrariums and Forced Bulb Planting." One new member, Mrs. George Carpenter, was welcomed. Members and their guests will attend the play "Voice of the Turtle" at the Allenberry Playhouse, near Boiling Springs, on October 31. The Homemakers will meet Thursday, November 19, at the home of Mrs. Charles Slusser, near town. Mrs. Harold Noble and Mrs. Irvin Conover will be in charge of the program on "Danish Foods."

The Women's Guild of Redeemer's United Church of Christ will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the church social hall.

TRICK, TREAT ON TUESDAY

"Trick or Treat for UNICEF" will be conducted in Littlestown Tuesday evening by the children of the Fifth and Sixth grades. The pupils will offer a coin box and ask for a donation for UNICEF instead of a treat for themselves. Residents are asked to receive the children kindly and to deposit a coin of any denomination in the box when offered. The money will go to the United Nations Children's Fund and be used to provide medicine, milk and vitamins to the ill and under privileged children of the world. The children will begin their visits at 6:30 p.m.

The children will take their coin boxes to St. Aloysius Hall, where a member of the Youth Conservation Committee of the Women's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity, which serves as the local UNICEF committee, Mrs. C. Donald Bower, chairman, will accept the money.

The annual Halloween party, sponsored by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce is being held in St. Aloysius Hall Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and the children may remain for the party. The UNICEF collectors may be identified by their official badge and coin box.

The Littlestown Homemakers will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Wolfe, along the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd. The topic of work for the evening will be "Winter Dish Gardens, Terrariums and Forced Bulb Planting." Members are asked to bring the necessary materials for the work project.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:
Gettysburg has a symphony orchestra; a good symphony orchestra. It deserves full support from the citizens of the community.

Actually it is more than the Gettysburg Symphony Orchestra. It is the best organization of the kind in this area and merits the help and encouragement of music lovers of the surrounding towns even beyond the boundaries of Adams County. The orchestra is worthy of a town many times the size of Gettysburg.

Probably the town will gradually come to full appreciation of the orchestra if it continues the caliber of development it has shown so far. Sometimes good things take hold slowly.

"Artistic Success"
The orchestra has begun its 1959-60 season. The initial concert in the high school auditorium last Thursday night was an artistic success but scarcely satisfactory crowd-wise. Perhaps the bad weather, perhaps the number of conflicting events in progress kept the crowd down. It is hard to find a night in a busy place like Gettysburg to avoid one or two conflicts. Usually the artistic attractions suffer.

William Sebastian Hart led his musicians through a program of high order. They performed with smoothness and balance and the program was a mixture of classical and lighter music that gave the crowd an interesting potpourri.

"Dash And Vibrancy"
Mr. Hart has brought together strong choirs in his musical organization. Especially is the string section a well-knit group. It has dash and vibrancy in its responses and there is a cohesion that gives a beautiful singing tone in the longer string readings.

In smaller orchestras — though this group is not small... 85 players are not to be pooh-poohed in orchestra bulk—the brass and reed sections sometimes are scratchy and difficult for a director to balance. Mr. Hart has sound help in that direction. His solo oboe was particularly colorful in its statements in Thursday's concert.

Handel's Prelude and Fugue in D Minor (Hans Kindler's arrangement) brought Mr. Hart's musicians to a high degree of achievement after very acceptable performance in the earlier Wagner and Mozart numbers. Borodin's "Prince Igor" (Polevetsian) dances were faithfully done and Rimsky's rollicking "Bumblebee" and Ravel's "Pavane" (doletful song of the dead princess) completed the more classical fare. Only the Ravel lacked some conviction.

"Lively And Interesting"
On the lighter side the audience was treated to several Leroy Anderson compositions including his "Serenata," a popular radio and TV dish, from which many theme excerpts have been carved. Anderson is always lively and interesting and, in this piece and the jazz group Mr. Hart selected, he gave the evening an added pace.

Closing was the haunting, tickling music of Frederick Loewe's "My Fair Lady." The arrangement was by Robert Russell Bennett and the Gettysburg orchestra did a heroic job on the fascinating lilting score that had the audience humming (as usual) the tunes as they left the concert.

With proper support from the town, and from the towns in Gettysburg's environs, Mr. Hart's orchestra holds great possibilities in embellishing civic affairs. But you can't operate orchestras on peanuts. Gettysburg is a cultural center; it should be ready for an orchestra. It will require organization—orchestra support units in various towns, year-long reminders of the orchestra's existence and needs and a civic pride in a sound musical group.

Enthusiastic Audience
The audience was enthusiastic about the opening concert of the season.

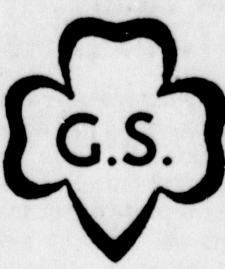

If there is one suggestion—and that in a constructive, not a carpenter's critical sense—Mr. Hart's descriptive announcements between numbers might be eliminated and the same set forth on program notes. Some description of the ensuing program might be included effectively in the conductor's WGET hour on a couple of evenings before a concert. Program comments even though they are erudite and instructive are many times distracting.

The orchestra should have a wide field of development. It opens an opportunity for aspiring young musicians, not often available in communities of this size. Gettysburg College please note! There would be a great chance for talented students to have 20 or more rehearsals and concerts under an experienced baton, if their studies permit.

Christmas Concert
And there are many times when a "little orchestra" group from the symphony could perform effectively and with popular response at incidental occasions during the year.

A "little orchestra" group, giving children's concerts in any or all of the county schools, has potential for good that simply cannot be estimated. One thing is meeting room; Flaming Arrow will make pumpkin lanterns; Hawk Patrol, cleanup. Everyone is asked to attend in costume and there will be prizes for the funniest, ugliest, most original and prettiest. Troop 84 will hold a Court of Honor on November 11.

Girl Scout News

A brief business meeting preceded the opening of the meeting Wednesday at Christ Lutheran Church of Girl Scout Troop 42. Candy for the girls to sell was distributed. The rest of the meeting was devoted to a "bon voyage" party for Danna Warrington, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Daniel Warrington, formerly of Hillcrest Pl. She left Thursday for England where her father is stationed with the U. S. Army. Cake and cokes were served by Mrs. Ralph Bream, Mrs. Paul Newman and Mrs. Allen Weikert. Tem Buleit presented Danna with a parting gift of a Girl Scout charm bracelet. The meeting adjourned following taps led by Miss Warrington.

Fairfield Brownie Troop 32 met Thursday afternoon in the kindergarten room with 29 attending. Those participating in the flag ceremony were: Nancy Dagenhart, Susan Sanders, Jacqueline Schultz and Linda Weikert. The "Brownie Story" was read to the girls by Mrs. Robert Rosenwald, leader. Get well cards were sent and invitations and favors for the Halloween party were made. The party will be held next Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Sites, Fairfield R. 1, leader. Any child desiring transportation is asked to call Mrs. Rosenwald or Mrs. Sites.

Twenty-one girls and two adults were invested into Bendersville Brownie Troop 29 during its meeting Wednesday afternoon at the elementary school.

Participating in the flag ceremony were: Sandra Singley, Anna Gaston, Jamie Smith, Diane Osborn and Diane Taylor, as announcer. Several songs were sung by the Brownies after which the new Brownies presented a dramatization of "The Brownie Story." A dance "Oh Susanna" was given by the older Brownies.

The following girls were invested into the troop by the leaders: Terry Baldwin, Marie Galusha, Linda Horick, Kay Kuntz, Janet Orner, Joleone Marden, Diane K. Taylor, Jenette Taylor, Retha Taylor, Susan Weaver, Gayle Fetters, Nancy Group, Deborah Thomas, Donna Barbour, Sandra Cooley, Patricia Cooley, Lucinda Pitzer, Mary Fair, Susan Plank, Linda Plank and Julia Baugher. Mrs. Arthur Kuntz and Mrs. Glenn Taylor were invested as troop committee members.

Following the program refreshments were served to the troop members and 22 guests. The leaders, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. James Wright, were assisted by Mrs. Arthur Kuntz and Mrs. Glenn Taylor, committee members, and Jane Wright, senior Scout. The meeting closed with friendship circle and taps.

certain, it would afford the youth of this area a cultural advantage available only in metropolitan areas.

It seems a happy circumstance that the orchestra should come along just ahead of the Civil War anniversary celebration. The Battle Hymn of the Republic (well orchestrated) might even be a part of the next concert just to stamp a signature theme on the orchestra.

And festival occasions could bring out "little orchestra" participation. Even a Christmas concert. Or are we dreaming?

Well, anyhow, a snappy salute to the Gettysburg Symphony Orchestra and William Sebastian Hart (whom I don't know!).

THOUGHT REPRODUCTION

The most wonderful gift in the world is life. The most marvelous thing in life is thought. And the most striking thing about thought is its reproduction.Just like a hi fi recording is thought in its method of being recorded.Your brain is a mass of cells.
With each thought are born vast multitudes of new cells to express their meaning in newly recorded paths through the brain.
Consciously and unconsciously the path making goes on. Old cells torn down, new cells built up!How fascinating it must be in the cell yard of a great brain!
And in your brain, like an architect, is your will, able to muster the almost limitless resources of cells that are yours, for almost any purpose and almost any plan.
So that we all soon come to do what we are, automatically, in a sort of nonthinking habit — until our habits rule.But back of all habit greatness is control. And back of control is character!It is a fine thing to think about these simple scientific facts that they may teach us respect for what we have, and give a kind of inspiration in pointing out possibilities that may be made to come true for us.Protected, 1959, by The George

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

PARADE OF WITNESSES

If any sort of estimate can be made from the records, the parade of witnesses at the trial of Emanuel Monn must have been quite impressive. When "the woman in the case," Susan Mc-Cleafe, gave her testimony she had the complete attention of all those in attendance. Her story, in part, was as follows:"I live at Maria Furnace with George Reese. I have known Henry Heist for a good while — he lived above our house, in the shanty. He began to live there last fall. Emanuel Monn lived with him. I had an engagement with Emanuel about the first of February (1893) to go over to his (Monn's) home. I was at George Reese's house on the first of February with a number of other people, among whom were Henry Heist and Emanuel Monn."On that Wednesday Emanuel Monn asked me about going with him. During the evening Heist and Monn were tussling and Heist said, 'Monn, stop or I'll kick you.' Henry Heist then went up to the shanty. Jim Daywalt then said he was going up after the gun. Emanuel Monn was the last to leave the house. He (Monn) said he was going to the shanty.
I never saw Emanuel Monn after he left our place that evening.

Says Monn Left

"The next morning Henry Heist came down to our house and said he had paid Monn off and that he (Monn) had gone home. My mother (the wife of George Reese) said it was funny Emanuel went away without his clean clothes, to which Heist replied that he (Monn) was in a hurry to get home. On Friday Henry Heist came again to the house (George Reese's), and asked me whether I was going along across the mountain. We were going to Aunt Susan Rock's. We (Susan Mc-Cleafe and Henry Heist) left on Friday about four o'clock in the afternoon and got to Monn's father's (at the Old Forge) about sundown."We found there Monn's brothers and sisters and father and mother.
Nancy Monn (Emanuel Monn's sister) said, 'Why didn't Emanuel come along?' Heist said, 'You Monn' wasn't coming home.'
Nancy Monn said to me (Susan McCleafe) — 'Where is Emanuel?'
and I said — 'Why didn't he come home?' and then Henry Heist said he (Emanuel Monn) said he was going to work somewhere else.
Heist then went into another room and when he came out he asked me whether I was going along.
"He struck at me and said I had to go with him. I then got ready and went with him. Heist got sick at John Henry Barnes' and the doctor attended him.
Then we came back to Monn's (Jacob Monn's, the father of Emanuel), it was a Tuesday morning, and stayed there until Wednesday, when we came back home. Henry Heist called Emanuel Monn 'Big Feet' as a nickname.
When I got home I was tired and went up to lie down. When I came down (Susan was there and he said I (Susan McCleafe) guessed I thought I'd see 'Big Feet' over the mountain.

Request Overheard

"Henry Heist is a stepuncle to me (Susan McCleafe). Emanuel Monn first asked me to go with him on Wednesday evening. The next day I told my mother that Emanuel wanted me to go with him. Heist was there and heard me ask."The witness, Susan McCleafe, identified the axe, mouth organ, tin pail, and the hatchet as belonging to Emanuel Monn.

Eleventh Witness — Annie

Mills — "I live three miles from Fairfield. I was at George Reese's house about the middle of January (1893) with other people. Susan McCleafe, Emanuel Monn, and myself were in the room romping, when Henry Heist came in and said, 'You are romping with Big Feet again.' And then he said — 'You were talking to John McCleafe. If I catch you talking to John Reese I will kick you as long as I can find a piece of you. You are always romping with such men as Monn and Reese, who are worth nothing, and will not have anything to do with people who are worth something.""I (Annie Mills) can't tell the exact time of day. It was in the afternoon. He (Heist) looked angry at Emanuel Monn and then Emanuel went out to the kitchen.
They were tussling, teasing one another in the room. Emanuel Monn had hold of Susan McCleafe's hands."

Survives Crash

N. Miller felt happy to be alive.He was chuckling when he emerged unhurt from his car which had been tossed 20 feet into

of a locomotive at a railroad crossing. The vehicle landed up-looked unsmilingly at the wreck and erased Miller's chuckle with a ticket charging failure to yield

CONFERENCE
TIMETABLE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are talking about a new summit conference timetable now that French President Charles de Gaulle has slowed the rush to negotiate with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.At the moment the outlook, as State Department authorities see it, is this:1. A Western summit meeting in early December just before the scheduled session of NATO foreign ministers opening Dec. 15.
This would bring together President Eisenhower, De Gaulle, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

At Geneva In March

2. An East-West summit conference at Geneva probably in March although present speculation also includes February and April as possible meeting months.The Geneva session would bring together Khrushchev, Eisenhower, Macmillan and De Gaulle.Between these two heads of government meetings there would be time for detailed planning of Germany, disarmament questions and other issues which the East-
West negotiations may take up.

Like Camp David

In the meantime, some further development of East-West understanding may result from the projected visit to France of Khrushchev for talks with De Gaulle.These talks presumably will be similar in nature to his Camp
David discussions with President Eisenhower last month.Eisenhower told a news conference at Augusta, Ga., Thursday that he favored an East-West summit meeting by the end of this year but made clear he had not insisted on it. At one point, it is understood, Dec. 7 was suggested to Macmillan and De Gaulle as a target date.

French Prestige At Stake

Macmillan wanted the session as soon as possible. But De Gaulle insisted in correspondence with the President and Prime Minister that there must be very careful preparations of Western policies so that the three would deal with Khrushchev from common positions. The French government said it favored an East-West meeting next spring.There is considerable speculation here that De Gaulle may also have had other considerations in mind. He may have wanted to arrange the Khrushchev visit to France prior to formal East-West negotiations. He may also have wanted more time in which to increase French prestige by exploding a nuclear weapons device in the Sahara Desert.Thus far the prosecution, in questioning the witnesses, had been able to prove the fact that Henry Heist was jealous of Susan McCleafe's friendship for young Emanuel Monn — also the fact that he (Heist) had told a number of conflicting stories concerning Monn's disappearance. The defense was unable to shake this testimony.The notes on the trial of Henry Heist for the murder of Emanuel Monn will be continued in this column next week.

Let's Look At The Record

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL
At Fifty-five He Was A Man Of Destiny
At Seventy-one His Work Had Been DoneBy JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, SuperiorGEORGE CATLETT MAR-SHALL, late general of the Army, former secretary of state and firstwhile secretary of defense, first appeared on his limited horizon in the halcyon days between the wars.I was a Wisconsin National Guard captain with the normal sportsman's enthusiasm for shooting free ammunition. He was a lieutenant colonel, Regular Army, and senior instructor for the Illinois National Guard.Then, as now, the Illinois National Guard artillery occasionally did their summer artillery firing at old Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.
Their instructors sometimes visit
McCoy while Wisconsin's artillery was still firing.LT. COL. MARSHALL, to us, was merely another lieutenant colonel of infantry who just as profitably could have been elsewhere. If he said a word all day
I did not hear it.In the soft twilight that evening there were visitors in front of the brigade commander's tent.
As a junior, brigade headquarters, duty officer, I was expected to stick around.Our Brig. Gen. Irving A. Fish, an able Milwaukee attorney and a thoroughly competent citizen soldier with an enviable war record, and the visiting infantry lieutenant colonel held forth on a wide variety of military subjects.The visitor was never at a loss for words. His ideas were informed and refreshingly new.
He had been everywhere and appeared to know everybody without being a name dropper. He spoke with equal ease and accuracy on historic campaigns. He specu-lated with discernment upon possible future war plans. He knew the equipment of foreign armies.
He knew what our forces needed.General Fish displayed a lawyer's skill at keeping the colonel talking. The next day I remarked to General Fish something about the brilliance of the unusual officer's conversation.It was General Fish's smiling opinion that Black Jack Pershing was such a silent, formidable personality after 1919 that he had to have a scintillating conversationalist as aide who could do his talking for him. On this score he was sure this after dinner guest was the best aide Pershing had ever known.

IKE GOLFS IN RAW, CHILLY
GA. WEATHERAUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — For a man who says he has chronic bronchitis, President Eisenhower doesn't seem to mind getting out in raw, chilly weather.It was that kind of weather Thursday afternoon when Eisenhower played the Augusta National Golf course.He did so a few hours after telling a news conference here he developed bronchitis almost three years ago "and it seems to have become chronic."White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, however, that he didn't think Eisenhower had run any risk to his health.

Chronic Case

Early last month the President caught a cold which in time made him miserable. On Sept. 30 he went to Palm Springs, Calif., on the recommendation of his doctor, and stayed in that dry climate until Oct. 8.

SPORTS

Hershey Roms To Easy 32-0 SP League Triumph Over Hapless Warriors

Hershey High School rolled over and around Gettysburg's Warriors 32-0 in a South Penn Conference football game before 2,000 at Hershey Friday night.

The Trojans scored in every period as they recorded their fifth win against one loss and one tie in outclassing the inept Warriors. The one-sidedness of the contest was demonstrated by Hershey's 353 yards rushing as against Gettysburg's one, and the home team's 23 first downs as against two.

The game was only nine minutes old when Ken Snyder, Trojan halfback, skirted his own right end from three yards out to climax a 12-play 63-yard drive to give Hershey a 6-0 lead.

Unable to gain against the Trojans, Gettysburg's Bob Furney quick-kicked dead on the Hershey 33. In four plays, the Trojans scored again with Snyder taking the ball on a double reverse and racing around left end for 40 yards and a score in 0:10 of the second period. Snyder added the extra point with a perfect placement.

Hershey Gets 3rd TD
After an exchange of punts following the kickoff, Hershey had possession on its own 48. Karl Kemble, Snyder, Bill Cave and G. I. Cash took turns running the ball to the Gettysburg 15 from where Kemble powered his way around left end for the touchdown in 9:40 of the second quarter.

The first time Hershey had the ball in the second half, the Trojans drove for another score. Kemble and Cave were the big ground gainers as they moved to the one from where Cave sneaked over for the score in 6:57.

Again the Warriors' attack was nil and Furney punted the ball dead on the Hershey 34. Coach Frank Kamus inserted his reserves and they marched to the Gettysburg 33 where the Warriors held and took over.

Unable to move the ball on attempted passes, Furney punted out to the Hershey 45. It took the Trojan understudies 11 plays to cross the goal line with Gene Baschore totting it over from the six after taking a pitchout and racing around his own right end. The same type of play accounted for the extra point with Baschore scoring.

Lone Offensive Threat
Gettysburg showed its only offensive thrust of the game late in the final period on the passing of Jim Miller as the Warriors moved from their own 40 to the Hershey 34 but here the attack was stopped.

Hershey's mastery was so complete that Gettysburg was able to get in the home team's territory only once, that late in the game against the Trojan reserves. Using wide pitchouts and end runs, Hershey skirted the ends with little difficulty. The Warrior tackling sank to a low new as many times the Maroons would hit a Hershey runner but were unable to stop him.

CHAVEZ RAVINE WILL NOT BE A 1-STOP CENTER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Another gust of confusion has blown over Chavez Ravine, and Dodger President Walter O'Malley admits his ball club is responsible for the whole thing.

The source of the confusion is a map showing the proposed Dodger stadium surrounded by restaurants, a car wash, a gas station and other commercial developments.

O'Malley admitted Friday one of his aides was in error when he denied knowledge of the controversial map. But the club president says there's no cause for alarm—the Dodgers aren't going to turn the place into a one-stop shopping center.

Exceed Agreement
The trouble started when the map was shown this week to members of the City Council. The consensus seemed to be that the Dodgers were going beyond their agreement with the city if they planned to encircle the stadium with business enterprises.

Then Dick Walsh, assistant general manager of the Dodgers, and Henry Walsh, a club attorney, were quoted by a paper as saying that they hadn't seen the map before and that the Dodgers didn't plan such facilities outside the ballpark.

But City Public Works Commissioner Arthur Field said the Dodgers provided the map for a hearing on rezoning Chavez Ravine last July 30. And he said the Walshes were at the hearing.

"We know now," O'Malley said, "that the confusion about the map is very definitely our responsibility. We do not repudiate it. Our Dick Walsh was familiar with the map and submitted it."

"On Monday . . . we will . . . elaborate on our intentions for the use of the land, which I know will be dignified and in keeping with our previous public statements and brochures. . . ."

Hanover High's undefeated football team crushed Carlisle, defending champion, 24-3, to clinch the 1959 South Penn Conference championship before 6,000 fans on the winner's field Friday evening.

The victory was the seventh straight and sixth in league competition for the Nighthawks who have only an engagement with Gettysburg on November 13 at Hanover remaining on the SP schedule. Carlisle had held the title for the last four years. Hanover's title is its first since 1947.

In other games Friday night Chambersburg blanked Middletown 19-0 and Hershey throttled Gettysburg 32-0.

PSSSA Will Meet In New Castle

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Sabbath Schools Assn. has voted to hold its next annual convention in New Castle, Oct. 18-20.

At the closing session of the 97th annual convention here Friday night, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) urged the lay Sunday School teachers to take an active part in government and politics. He said it would be mutually beneficial.

"Too few Americans recognize their right—indeed their obligation—to participate in government and politics," Scott said in remarks prepared for the convention.

"Many otherwise good citizens tend to leave this work for 'those who can stomach it' or 'those who can afford it,'" Scott said.

"This is unfortunate," Scott added, "because their community needs them and they would well benefit from the experience of making or implementing our laws."

Bob Grieve is coaching the Syracuse cross-country team for the 14th season.

2 Americans May Get Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Local newspapers today mentioned two American scientists as probable candidates for this year's Nobel physics prize.

They are Dr. Emilio Segre and Dr. Owen Chamberlain of the University of California, Berkeley.

The Swedish Academy of Science is due to select the winner or winners Monday.

Segre, born in Italy, and Chamberlain are accredited with the discovery of the antiproton.

Together, with Clyde Wiegand and Thomas Ypsilantis, the two scientists made their discovery in a specially constructed machine.

BULLET FROSH DOWN TEMPLE 6 TO 0 ON PASS

A 70-yard pass play, Howie Wilbraham to Jerry Robertson, in the opening moments of the final period produced the only touchdown as the Gettysburg College freshmen edged Temple 6-0 Friday afternoon at Philadelphia.

It was a hard-earned triumph for Coach Jack Ridinger's yearlings who were forced to make defensive stands upon several occasions.

The Bullets were in hot water on the opening kickoff which was fumbled and recovered by Richino of Temple on the Gettysburg 33. The Owls picked up two straight first downs before the Bullets braced and took over on the one.

Gettysburg, with Wilbraham, Helbig, Council and Sabo sparking the drive, moved out for four straight first downs before being stopped on the Temple 32.

Holt Another Threat
Early in the second quarter Temple moved to midfield before punting to the Gettysburg 32. The Bullets picked up a pair of first downs before kicking to the Temple 38. The Owls booted back to the Gettysburg 24. Two plays later Ulmer intercepted a Wilbraham pass on the Bullets' 16. However, Gettysburg took over on the 10 when a fourth-down pass was incomplete.

Near the finish of the third period Temple gained a first down on the Gettysburg 20 primarily due to a 32-yard run by Buckanavage. The Owls were finally stopped at the 5, Helbig punting out to the 41 at the close of the quarter.

After four minutes of the final quarter Gettysburg gained possession on its 28. John Sheaffer picked up two yards and then Wilbraham fired a 30-aerial to Robertson and the latter streaked 40 yards for the only score of the game. Dick Helbig's kick for the point was blocked.

The Bullets (1-1) meet Stevens Trade at Lancaster next Thursday evening.

3,039 More Idled By Steel Strike

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department reports that 3,039 more workers were idled this week as an indirect effect of the steel strike.

The department's weekly report Friday showed a total of 56,916 workers have been laid off as an indirect effect of the strike.

The actual number of steelworkers on strike dropped by 500 according to the report. It showed a total of 166,100 steelworkers still on strike.

The department said most of the workers idled as an indirect effect of the strike were in the mining and metal manufacturing industries.

KINZA BRIDGE SOLD
BRADFORD, Pa. A Harry W. Von Miller, president of the railroad, said Thursday his company had no use for the bridge after abandoning a 14-mile stretch of track between nearby Mount Jewett and Lewis Run.

DRESEN WILL PILOT BRAVES FOR 2 YEARS

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Charley (Chuck) Dresen, a veteran field boss with two National League championships, is the new Milwaukee Braves manager.

The 61-year-old Dresen was signed to a two-year contract Friday night at a meeting with Milwaukee owner Lou Perini. Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts, and General Manager John McHale in Chicago.

The signing of Dresen, the coach with the Los Angeles Dodgers for the past two seasons, was announced several hours after The Associated Press reported exclusively that he was the choice to succeed Fred Haney, who resigned three weeks ago.

Call News Conference
Terms of the contract were not divulged, but the Braves scheduled a news conference to expand on their announcement.

The Braves' announcement was forced after the AP reported that Dresen would be named. Dresen's wife, at the time, reported he was out fishing and "I can truthfully say the Milwaukee club has not called Charley."

Dresen, who piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers to championships in 1952 and 1953, was the choice of Perini after Tebbetts reportedly stood fast in his desire to remain in the front office.

Daring Play Pilot
Tebbetts, who gave up the managership of the Cincinnati Reds to join the brass in the Milwaukee front office, was considered the No. 1 selection by Perini.

However, with the refusal of Tebbetts to don a uniform, the Braves turned to Dresen, a member of the same baseball breed. Dresen, like Tebbetts, is known for his spirited and daring play in far contrast to Haney, who managed his teams cautiously and conservatively.

When phoned by Perini, General Manager Buzzy Bavasi of the Dodgers said in a statement that the club "reluctantly consented" to release Dresen as a coach.

COEDS CAPTURE 4TH STRAIGHT

Two goals in the second half of play gave Miss Grace Kenney and her Gettysburg College girls' field hockey team their fourth straight win of the season as they edged the Ursinus girls' team 3-2, Friday afternoon on the local field.

The Bulletes, who dropped their first two outings, have snapped back to post a 3-2 record. Next Tuesday they work out meet East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on the opponents' field.

Linda Rohrer, Gettysburg right wing, knotted the count at 2-2 shortly after the second half got underway. With only three minutes left in the game, Rohrer came sailing back to ram through another goal to give the Bulletes the win.

Sue Wagner, Ursinus left inner, and Sandy Dempsy, Gettysburg captain, exchanged goals in the early part of the game. Ursinus right wing, Ingle Reinger, put the visitors out in front, 2-1, at the end of the first half with a last minute goal.

Betsy Taylor, Gettysburg left back, and Reinger collided midway through the second half and both had to leave the game. Neither was seriously injured.

Will Finance Grid Team In Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Ralph C. Wilson, Detroit trucking and insurance executive, says he'll put up the $300,000 to $500,000 to finance a professional football team here.

Wilson, who says he has a franchise in the budding American Football League and wants to put it in Buffalo, is in town for informal talks with city officials.

"All we have to do so far as I'm concerned is work out a satisfactory stadium lease," Wilson said. "I'm prepared to put up the $300,000 to $500,000 I estimate it would take to open a franchise here."

AUBURN WINS UCLA UPSET BY AIR FORCE 20-7

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Shed a tear for Auburn.

Here is a team that has lost just one of its first five games (the first), yet has been virtually written off as a national threat.

Going into the current season Coach Shug Jordan's lads had run up a streak of 24 games without a defeat. There was no reason to believe they weren't loaded again. But Tennessee nipped them at their own game in the opener, 3-0. Since then, Auburn has beaten Hardin - Simmons, Kentucky, Georgia Tech and Friday night, the Miami Hurricanes 21-6.

But when the Tennessee game score was posted, Auburn's stock took a nosedive. Their victory over Georgia Tech, which tied them last year, pulled the Tigers back into the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll and at the moment they're in the No. 7 spot.

UCLA Upset 20-7
In the other two big games Friday night the Air Force Academy upset UCLA 20-7 and Boston University nipped Connecticut 8-7.

The Air Force, who lost their first game in 15 starts last week to Oregon, stuck mostly to a ground attack in whipping UCLA. This was a "new" Auburn team that beat Miami. At least the Tigers had a new look about them. In the past, they have stuck to the ground in their attack. This time, they took to the air right at the start.

Connecticut appeared headed for an upset, scoring in the third period on a one-yard run by Tom Kopp. But the Uconnis ran out of gas and BU scored in the last stanza on Jack Farland's pass to Gene Prohala. Dick Desmarais gamblled by running for the extra two points. He made it and that was the margin of victory.

LSU Vs. Florida
Top-ranked Louisiana State, nursing a 17-game Southeastern Conference winning streak, goes against Florida today in a league game. The Bengals rate heavy favorites.

Northwestern, No. 2, tangles with Notre Dame, a club that's itching for an upset after being beaten twice. Texas, No. 3, and the bigwig of the Southwest Conference, has an easy assignment against winless Rice in a night game.

Mississippi, No. 4 and LSU's big threat for the SEC title, plays Arkansas. This should be close. Southern California, No. 5, is favored over Stanford.

Syracuse Vs. West Va.
The big game in the East pit Syracuse, No. 6 against West Virginia, and Penn State, No. 8, against Illinois.

Ninth-ranked Georgia Tech, will try to get back on the track against Tulane after going down to its first defeat at the hands of Auburn.

The TV game of the week matches Iowa, the defending Big 10 champion, and Purdue, in a league game. The color telecast will be on NBC-TV starting at 2:15 p.m. (EST).

GIANTS, COLTS CALL ROOKIES FOR BIG GAMES

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants and Baltimore Colts, teams with the victory habit, both will be going with rookies in vital offensive positions Sunday in the National Football League.

Joe Biscaglia, the Giants' 27th draft choice, will start at end in place of Capt. Kyle Rote in a game with the Steelers at Pittsburgh. Rote has an injured knee. Biscaglia, an 185-pound Richmond grad just off the injured list, out-did All-America Buddy Dial for a place on the New York roster in the exhibition season.

Alex Hawkins, cast off by Green Bay after being named Atlantic Coast Conference back of the year in 1958, gets the job of replacing L. G. Dupre in the Colts' backfield. The Colts, 13-point favorites over Green Bay, have gone all the way with Dupre and his half-back mate, Lenny Moore.

Giants Lead East
The Giants lead the East with three victories in four games. Philadelphia, Washington, Cleveland and Pittsburgh are tied for second at 2-2 and the Chicago Cards last at 1-3.

Baltimore is bracketed atop the West with Green Bay and San Francisco. Los Angeles (2-2) is fourth, the Chicago Bears (1-3) fifth and Detroit (0-4) last.

Cleveland is favored by nine points over visiting Washington and Philadelphia rates a point better than the Cardinals. The latter game is one of two Cardinal "home" games being played at Minneapolis.

The Chicago Bears invade Los Angeles and Detroit is at San Francisco. Both West Coast teams are favored, the Rams by 12 and the 49ers by 1.

BILLY HUNTER K.O.'S ANTHONY

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Nobody will accuse Billy Hunter of being a "new Joe Louis" but he shows promise. The best you can say for Tony Anthony is that he showed up.

Even showing up was a mistake for Anthony who became Hunter's TKO victim in 1:04 of the seventh round Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

For about 10 seconds in the very first round Anthony sparkled. He dashed out with a left hook that shook Hunter from choppers to toes. That was all.

Hunter quickly recovered, waltzed Anthony to the ropes and worked him over. It went on like that until Referee Arthur Mercante stopped it.

To Meet Miteff
Tony sagged on the ropes, half sat on the middle strand and ducked as many punches as he could. Occasionally he would rouse himself for a brief flurry. Then he started absorbing the punches that almost closed his left eye and left him bleeding from nose and mouth.

As a reward for this victory, the 193-pound Hunter will be asked to retrace his steps. He has been offered a Nov. 27 rematch in the Garden with Alex Miteff of Argentina, a man he stopped on cuts in seven rounds at Syracuse, Sept. 25. The seventh seems to be his round.

At 18½ pounds, Anthony showed little fire. He tired quickly and had no sustained punching power.

Yanks In Final Of Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—A couple of Yankees from New Jersey met here today in the finals of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament.

Paired in the final 18-hole round over the 6,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club were Walter Pease, a Plainfield, N.J., attorney, and Paul Dunkel of Hackensack, N.J.

The two golfing friends of 20 years have never faced each other in a tournament before. Pease is 58 and Dunkel 66.

Pease defeated tournament favorite Tom Robbins of Pinehurst, 1-up in Friday's semifinals while Dunkel eliminated W. E. Norvell Jr. of Signal Mountain, Tenn., 3 and 2.

Failure To Warn Crew Of Storm Caused Plane Crash

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board said Friday a Capital Airlines plane which broke apart in flight over Maryland last May, killing 31 persons, apparently fell victim to a vicious thunderstorm.

Violent air turbulence which overtaxed the plane's structure was listed as the specific cause.

The plane, a Viscount turboprop, fell to earth in flaming pieces near Chase, Md., north-east of Baltimore, on May 12. It was bound from New York City to Atlanta, Ga.

Capital dispatchers were criticized by the CAB for failing to pass along important weather data to the plane's crew. The CAB said this information might have prompted the pilot to avoid the storm areas or take other precautions.

Reconstruct Disaster

On the basis of eyewitness reports, autopsies, public hearings, a piecing together of the plane's fragments, and special research by weather experts, the CAB made a reconstruction of the disaster.

At 2:15 p.m., the Weather Bureau issued a flash warning of potentially hazardous weather, growing in intensity, along the route of the plane, the CAB said.

The plane took off from New York at 3:20 p.m., but the crew, in the opinion of the CAB, had not received the weather warning.

Flying at 14,000 feet, pilot William C. Paddock contacted Washington airport at 4:02 p.m., reporting thunderstorms ahead. He sought, and received, permission to try and skirt them.

Reduces Plane Speed

At 4:10 p.m., Paddock radioed that he was cutting his speed to about 200 miles an hour because of rough air.

Three minutes later, more than 100 witnesses on the ground saw the plane disintegrate and fall in flames from an altitude of about 5,000 feet.

Noting that the craft had plummeted about 9,000 feet in three

"BIG PARTY" RINGS BELL 2ND TIME OUT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV and Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Big Party," which got off to a bad start two weeks ago, picked up considerably Thursday night. In fact, the 90-minute CBS show was a ball its second time out, bright, gay, amusing and fun to look in on.

Greer Garson was hostess to a large gathering in an unidentified place. Miss Garson greeted the guests, sang and danced a little with Walter Slezak and indulged in some pleasant clowning.

Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy sang, did imitations and a very funny bit about a night club singer and a drunken heckler. Mike Nichols and Elaine May were great engaging in a stilted cocktail party type conversation which covered the gamut of polite clichés about head colds. They also did a fine satiric piece about a man at a hospital administration desk trying to get a broken arm set. Martha Raye was funny and tenuous in a couple of turns and the whole big star cast joined in a delightful spoof on television commercials.

Disappointed By Ernie

I slipped away reluctantly a half hour early—as Sal Mineo started "Mack the Knife"—to see what Ernie Kovacs was doing as host on a new ABC panel show called "Take a Good Luck." I should have stayed with Miss Garson.

It was an untidy, fumbling little show based on a shopworn idea—a panel trying to identify guests from clues and questions.

Aids in November

CBS radio will launch its 29th consecutive season of live Metropolitan Opera broadcasts with "Aida," on Saturday, Nov. 28. Burgess Meredith, who hasn't done much acting on television, is making a sort of career of hosting specials. First it was the "America Pauses" shows, and now its a forthcoming Telephone Hour musical Nov. 6.

ABC will do a rerun of "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf," which drew critical praise and won awards after its first time out, on Nov. 29. CBS is taping George Bernard Shaw's "Misalliance" with Robert Morley for next Thursday's Playhouse 90. Jack Webb, who at the last minute was not visited by Person by Person last week, will be visiting Jack Benny on Sunday, Nov. 1.

Sponsor Magazine, after a study of current shows, concludes that variety shows and standup comedy are riding tall in TV's saddle, while new shows in the Western adventure, crime - suspense and even situation comedy categories

KY. PASTOR RECREATES HOLY LAND

By CLAUDE WOLFF

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — High on a hilltop overlooking the Ohio River sits an island of peace and quiet called the Garden of Hope.

It is a place where thousands of persons of all religious faiths can slip away for a while to rest and contemplate in surroundings as close to the Holy Land as man can make them.

The center of it all is a replica of the Garden Tomb in Jerusalem, believed by many to be the tomb given by Joseph of Arimathea for the body of Christ.

Burial Space

Through a narrow door cut in stone, one can see places of burial for three persons. On the space like the one where Christ traditionally is believed to have lain is engraved:

"He is not here, for He has risen."

On the wall just above the slab is the quotation from John: "Joseph of Arimathea... took the body of Jesus. Now in the place where He was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. There they laid Jesus..."

Realizes Dream

The Garden of Hope is the realization of the dream of a

Sedation Demands Less For The Aged

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Philadelphia doctor warned Friday that "preanesthetic medication must be selected carefully after complete and thoughtful evaluation, especially for elderly patients."

The aged patient can be prepared adequately for an anesthetic by a pleasant and reassuring interview with the anesthesiologist without the use of any drug, said Dr. LeRoy W. Krumpelman. He is head of the Department of Anesthesiology at the Temple University School of Medicine.

Dr. Krumpelman also told the 109th session of the Pennsylvania Medical Society that "the demands for sedation by elderly patients are usually considerably less than those for younger patients."

young, personable and tireless minister, the Rev. Morris Coers, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Covington.

The Rev. Mr. Coers first visited the Holy Land 21 years ago. Knowing that such visits were impossible for millions of people, he determined to reproduce part of it in the United States.

In addition to the tomb, there is a carpenter's shop, constructed as it would have looked if the work were done 2,000 years ago.

Nonprofit

The "Glory Trial," strewn with reminders of the Holy Land, runs through the garden.

The garden, which seeks no profit, is not yet finished but already it is as beautiful and sacred-looking a spot as can be found anywhere—truly a Garden of Hope.

ASKS WESTERN SUMMIT MEET

By HERB ALTSCHULL

BONN, Germany (AP) — Diplomatic informants reported Friday that President Charles de Gaulle has issued invitations to a Western summit meeting in Paris.

No specific date apparently was fixed.

The informants said De Gaulle asked West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to stay on in Paris after their meeting with President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

De Gaulle's reported proposal to meet with his Allies appeared in line with his statement that the Western leaders should meet in "leisurely" fashion several times in order to work up a unit policy for the future East-West summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Early Meeting Remote

It seemed unlikely a Western summit meeting could be arranged in Paris before the latter part of November.

Adenauer is due to go to London for talks with Macmillan Nov. 17-19. Before then British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is to go to Paris to confer with Maurice Couve de Murville, the French foreign minister.

And with Khrushchev reportedly due to visit Paris this autumn, the chances of an East-West summit conference this year now appeared most remote.

DO YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS?

Here is a message you will want to read.

Your doctor can tell you there is absolutely no known cure for arthritis. Medical research specialists are now engaged in several projects which, it is felt, will ultimately help in finding a cure, but as yet none has been found. Naturally, we all live in hope they will be successful, but until that time we must be content to get the best relief possible.

Right now there is a fast, safe and effective relieving agent available called Pruvio. Pruvio's ingredients have been used in hospitals and clinics, prescribed by doctors, and have helped scores of men and women to lead happy and full lives. You can be sure nothing is faster, safer or has been proven more effective than Pruvio for temporary easing of a minor arthritic condition or its related diseases... rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis. And it's wonderful for backache and everyday muscular aches and pains too. Try Pruvio today. Ask your druggist for a generous 75-tablet TRIAL SIZE BOTTLE. You must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. There are larger, economy sizes also, for continued use.

Agent Tells Of Evergreen Habits; Tips On Pumpkin, Squash Storage, Forage

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Fall is the time of year when most evergreens carry out "operation needle drop." The pines, spruces and other drop one year's growth of needles during September and October. In Scotch pine the 3-year old needles turn yellowish and then fall off. The Red Pine usually drops its 4-year old needles, while white pine normally keeps only 1 or 2 years' growth of needles.

FRANK S. ZETTEL

The needles which are lost are those nearest the center of the tree. The younger, green needles are at the ends of the branches. While this shedding operation is in progress the trees often appear to be dead or dying. However, as soon as a hard wind or heavy rain occur the old needles are knocked to the ground and the tree again appears normal.

Conditions Influence

Usual summer seasons of drought or heavy rains may upset this natural process and cause more than the normal number of needles to drop. In these cases if the tree keeps the current year's needles in a green healthy condition, the tree will continue to grow next year.

Soft-skinned varieties of pumpkins do not keep in storage for as long as the usual storage varieties. Varieties like Connecticut Field and the Cushaws are poor keepers, and you cannot expect them to stay in good condition for more than two or three months.

But the hard-shelled squashes such as the Hubbards, the large Cheese, Table Queen, Buttercup and others may be kept for three to six months in storage. They must be well cured, however.

Procedure Outlined

All varieties must be well matured, carefully handled and free from injury or decay when put in storage. Less rot will occur if the stems are removed before curing. Preliminary curing at 80 to 85 degrees for about two weeks is beneficial. This helps when you are ripening immature specimens and healing mechanical injuries caused during harvesting.

The best storage temperature for pumpkins and winter squash is from 50 to 55 degrees with a relatively low humidity of about 70 to 75 per cent.

Hard-shelled squash or pumpkins intended for storage should be harvested and partially cured even before the first frost occurs. A light freeze or very heavy frost will injure their keeping qualities.

Low Forage Intake

Abnormally low forage intake was noted in almost 16 per cent of the dairy herds using the Penn State Forage Testing Service during its first five months of operation. Daily hay-equivalent intake in these herds was less than two pounds per 100 pounds of bodyweight. Hay-equivalent refers to the same dry matter basis as hay. Such a low rate of forage consumption does not allow for maximum butterfat test or efficient feeding under most Pennsylvania conditions. Dairyherds should strive to get at least two pounds of hay equivalent per 100 pounds of bodyweight into each cow daily.

To make efficient use of forage in daily feeding of cows, a hay-equivalent intake of 3 pounds per 100 pounds of bodyweight represents a practical goal. Only nine per cent of the summarized herds attained or exceeded this goal during the last barn-feeding season. This situation indicates that our forage feeding programs can assist dairyherds tremendously.

Service Available

Each dairyman using the Forage Testing Service is given the current hay-equivalent intake in his herd. When necessary, suggestions are made on how forage consumption may be improved. This new service is available to all farmers in Pennsylvania. Detailed information and necessary supplies may be obtained at your Adams County Agricultural Extension Office upon request.

The average hay-equivalent intake for herds using the service last year was 2.4 pounds per 100 pounds bodyweight. This finding means that forage consumption was satisfactory in the majority of herds, considering the quality of forage fed.

adjacent to Barlow's Knoll. The optioning of county land east of the Harrisburg Road for the same commercial use has shown that new enterprises can be attracted without destroying something we already have. However, neither Gettysburg nor the county has taken, or shown any indication of taking, cooperative action Cumberland Township alone, cannot be expected to preserve the Battlefield, when Gettysburg, which derives the largest financial benefit from tourism, does nothing. Accordingly, the supervisors are taking action this week to change the set-back along Battlefield avenues to 50 feet, conforming to requirements along other roads in the township.

Most Important Aspect

"Throughout the United States where residential and commercial expansion into townships has occurred without adequate planning and zoning, property values have been destroyed, sanitation has suffered, new industry has been kept away, and when corrective action was forced, taxes were necessarily increased to pay for this needless misuse of property. A most important aspect of planning is, through sound use of available land, to prevent these excessive increases in taxes in the future. Nothing now prevents an adjoining owner from placing a septic tank against your property line, nor does it prevent him from establishing an objectionable business next door to your home. Adequate planning and zoning can prevent such happenings.

"Before a zoning ordinance can become law, public hearings, well advertised, must be held by your Planning Commission, and later, by your supervisors. At these meetings you are encouraged to frankly express your wishes so that changes may be incorporated and the final document most nearly meet the needs of our township.

"Your supervisors have shown great vision and an appreciation of their responsibilities to safeguard your interests, not only now, but in the future. Having recognized that the population centered in the Gettysburg area must expand into our township, they have courageously appointed the first township commission in Adams County to plan for and safeguard the interests of our citizens.

Asks Confidence

"To sum up, planning and zoning are for your protection, to prevent future devaluation of your homes and businesses, to prevent unnecessary future taxation required to correct irresponsible action by those interested only in a 'fast buck,' and to make our township a better place for us and our children to live and work.

"A contract for consulting service has been made with the Fels Institute (non-profit), subsidiary of the University of Pennsylvania, at a maximum cost of $4,500 payable over a two-year period. We hope, with their assistance, to have a draft ordinance for your consideration within the next three or four months. With all of us working together for the common

Move Coldframes — Portable coldframes are more popular for growing early plants than are the permanently located ones. Growers who do not intend to treat their soil with a sterilant to control weeds, insects, or fungus diseases should plan to use movable frames, recommends James Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist.

Courtesy Counts — Hunting is a rugged sport but good manners have a place in the activities, reminds Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist. If you plan to hunt on farms or other private land, be sure to get permission ahead of time. Then remember you are a guest and behave like one.

Fertilize Lawn — With some good grass-growing weather ahead until the ground freezes, you can still fertilize your lawn, says John Harper, Penn State extension turf specialist. He recommends about a 2-1-1 ratio fertilizer such as 10-5-5, 10-6-4, or 12-6-6 with some of the nitrogen being slowly available.

Credit Is Useful — More and more farmers are finding credit a useful tool, according to James Becker, Penn State extension farm management specialist. He explains that credit helps farmers to change to efficient production and marketing methods.

In the meantime, we ask that you reserve judgment, disregard rumors and irresponsible statements, confident that your individual wishes will be given full and serious consideration."

7 Mental Patients Flee From Hospital

ATASCADERO, Calif. (AP) — Seven mental patients — five described as potentially dangerous — escaped from the State Hospital here Friday night.

The hospital's administrative assistant, Harold Schmitz, said the men sawed through a barred window.

Law enforcement officers in San Luis Obispo County and surrounding areas of central California mounted a search.

The escapees were identified as Jess Reyes, 23, Robert Anaya, 20, Joaquin Lopez, 35, and Conrad Langenegger, 25, committed from Los Angeles County; Mason Alston and Charles Lotstreich, both 22 and both from Kern County, and Leroy Tapia, 23, from Solano County.

Lotstreich and Tapia are definitely not dangerous, Schmitz said.

Memo To Builders: Less 'Scenery,' More Closets

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Wife who is too watchful of husband is likely to wind up without a new house.

No, Confucius didn't say that. It's a bit of advice offered to builders in a trade paper, The Long Island Builder.

The tip goes like this: "Use hostesses on heavy traffic days, but use matronly types rather than glamorous girls. Husbands keep their eyes on sexy young things; wives keep their eyes on the husbands; nobody sees the house."

This is a fascinating tidbit to file in your memory book under the heading: "Reasons why we don't own a house."

The builders may have a point, name on the house contract. (After that, watch out.)

A Happy Time

There is no happier female in the world than a woman who is about to take on a house. She's in no mood for quibbling once she has a foot in the door. That's an accomplishment in itself.

The paper suggests among other sales techniques to charm the prospective buyer, the muted strains of radio or record player, coffee or soft drinks in the model house kitchen, a handy swing in the backyard to enchant children while parents ogle, something cooking on the stove to make the home smell good, shades drawn if the day is dark, doors open if the sun is shining.

It sounds homey, but we'll put our house money on the seller

But we'll bet our last year's summer house that when a man gets to the point of parting with his savings, he's not going to worry about the come-on in the deal.

And when his lady is that close to getting her own home she'll shut her eyes to the man's indiscretions — until he puts his who shows more closet space than a woman can dream up (and if they're departmentalized so much the better), such important-to-women work savers as washing machine, dryer, dish washer, enough kitchen cabinets to house her collection of portable appliances, a fenced-in area for small fry, a small room for cogitating, sewing, ironing or reading, and if it's soundproof so much the better, a living room large or small that can be decorated for coziness, not broken up with windows, doors, staircases all in the wrong places, a good lighting system, a pleasant terrace outdoors accessible to the kitchen.

Impress The Husband

Even the man with three thumbs will be impressed with a built-in workshop and an accessible spot for garden tools.

Another important consideration would be to turn off the "extras." There was a time when you could buy a house with the necessities of the moment, at the right price. But these days a woman is wooed with an attractive floor plan, she approves it, and then finds out all the features that she can't do without are above the asking price.

TAX IS VOIDED; MICHIGAN IN DIRE NEED OF MONEY AGAIN

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials tightened strings on a nearly empty purse Friday and hoped the Legislature would come up soon with a source of needed funds.

The state faced a new cash crisis as result of a Michigan Supreme Court decision Thursday knocking out a one per cent use tax designed to raise 10 million dollars and wipe out an 80 million dollar state deficit.

The state administrative board cut out virtually all out-of-state travel by state employees, filling of job vacancies and all but emergency purchases of supplies.

New Tax Battle
Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was due back from a four-week vacation abroad to take on the Republican-controlled Legislature in a new tax battle.

The court split 5-3 in ruling that the use tax was basically a sales tax increase in disguise and to be valid would have to be submitted to popular vote. Earlier this year Republicans sought to do this but were blocked by Democrats who demanded a state income tax.

Michigan has a three per cent sales tax, the maximum that can be levied under the state constitution. The use tax would have raised the tax to four per cent.

Raised $1 Million
Before it was knocked out, the use tax raised 14 million dollars. The state revenue department estimated that 40 per cent of this might have to be refunded. But red tape was expected to discourage many taxpayers from attempting to collect.

The Legislature, which has been in a marathon session since January, will reconvene next Thursday to tackle the tax problem again. Republican leaders have gone to work on alternative proposals.

STRIKING MEAT PACKERS WILL VOTE ON TERMS

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 18,000 striking meat packing employees will vote this weekend whether to ratify a tentative contract agreement which would end their seven-week walkout against Swift & Co.

Ratification by a majority of the locals in 34 cities would give the workers a contract providing for wage increases from 8½ to 15 cents an hour over a two-year period plus improved fringe benefits.

Announcement of the tentative agreement came Thursday night from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, whose conciliators sat in on negotiating sessions, and from officers of the two striking unions.

5,000 Workers
The unions are the United Packinghouse Workers of America, which represents 13,000 workers, and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, representing 5,000 workers.

For most Swift workers the wage increases would be the same as those the unions negotiated in contracts with other major meat packers.

About 16,000 Swift workers would receive an immediate increase of 8½ cents an hour and ½ cents an hour on Sept. 1, 1960. Pre-contract pay in the industry averaged $2.56 an hour.

The remainder of the employees, working at seven southern plants, would receive a total of 8½ cents an hour over the two year period.

PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECTS AT SMITH DINNER

NEW YORK (AP) — Two possible 1960 candidates for president — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts — told the same nonpolitical dinner audience Thursday night that the United States must improve its example of freedom before the world.

The Republican governor and Democratic senator addressed 2,500 persons at the annual benefit dinner of the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation.

The late Al Smith, governor of New York and 1928 Democratic nominee for president, came in for high praise from several speakers.

Rockefeller said the United States cannot have respect abroad until it honors equal rights for Negroes, cleans up its slums and spurs its economic growth.

Kennedy called for leadership like that of Al Smith in "the war of the public good against private interest, of responsible leadership against aimless drift, of moral accountability against moral indifference."

Rockefeller called for "making our political life, in this divided

FRENCH SOLON FILES SUIT FOR DEFAMATION

PARIS (AP) — Left-wing Sen. Francois Mitterrand started defamation proceedings Friday against a rightist former legislator who charged that Mitterrand hired him to fake an assassination attempt on the senator.

Ex-Deputy Robert Pesquet claimed that Mitterrand believed the attack would impel the government to crack down on extreme rightists opposing any weakening of France's hold on Algeria.

Mitterrand, a non-Communist leftist who favors a liberal policy toward Algeria, reported last week that terrorists riddled his car with bullets just after he leaped from it and escaped over a fence.

Many Were Questioned
The attack was followed by police searches throughout France. Many extreme rightists were questioned and documents seized. Pesquet, a follower recently of tax rebel Pierre Poujade and a last-ditch fighter against Algerian independence, told newsmen the senator arranged the fake assassination attempt with him. He said he played along to discredit Mitterrand and thus help defend "those who are sworn to keep Algeria French."

The two men confronted each other during an all-night session of questions by a magistrate. As he left the court, Mitterrand told newsmen he had instructed his lawyers to bring defamation proceedings against Pesquet.

GIRL, 14, RAPED BY EX-CONVICT

LYNDONVILLE, Vt. (AP) — A 14-year-old Maine girl, missing for six days, was found here Friday. She told a story of being abducted at knifepoint by an ex-convict who held her captive with little food or sleep during that time before releasing her early today.

Sharon Simmons of Damariscotta, Maine, was raped during the time she was held captive. Sharon said Rodney Austin, 44, an ex-convict of Newcastle, Maine, grabbed her at the point of a knife last Saturday night while she was baby sitting in Damariscotta.

Slept In Car
She said that for six days she went with little food and little sleep while they traveled through Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The girl said that they slept in the car many nights and also stayed in an unoccupied home which the Austin family owns in Franklin, Vt.

Police said Sharon was brought by Austin to the home of his brother in Lyndonville about 1:30 a.m. Austin fled before police arrived and a state-wide search immediately was initiated for him.

Rodney's wife gave birth to a daughter three days ago in Maine.

Agriculture Board Continues Hearing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture continued a hearing Friday on a request by the Inter-state Milk Producers Cooperative to revise the price formula for Class I milk.

Inter-State has asked that the price of the $5.39 per hundred-weight paid to farmers be increased 40 cents. The Class I price formula affects farmers in the Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del., area. Since it was established in April, 1951, it has been changed 10 times.

Seven Prayers Instruct Men How To Pray

REV. LENA PARR
Pastor, St. Paul
AME Zion Church
THE LORD'S PRAYER

"Seven Prayers of Jesus are recorded in the Synoptic Gospels. One of these is known as The Lord's Prayer. Jesus gave it to the twelve to teach them how to pray. He meant this prayer for our own keeping, so that we will make a great discovery that men live as they pray. We should know how to commune with God and to keep in touch with Him we must pray. Jesus taught us to say, 'Our Father.' He gave it to the twelve to let them know that God was their Father. To the world today He means the same. Paul looked upon this discovery as a new birth, the beginning of a new life. John seemed to grasp the truth. Peter struggled for it, and Judas understood it not. 'And what do you think about it?'"

"Hallowed be thy name.' His name is holy therefore it shall be revered. It is a reminder to us to respect His name by keeping it pure in our thoughts."

"Thy Kingdom Come"
"Thy Kingdom Come, Thy will be done.' The disciples came to the understanding that Jesus meant to make a better world for all people. What of tomorrow? That depends upon the individual. We want the kingdom of God to dwell in us for man was given power to rule over the dominion of the earth in order to make it a kingdom such as God's will is in Heaven."

"Bread of Life"
"Give us this day our daily bread.' Jesus said, 'I am the bread of Life.' Have we learned to pray as we ought? For the bread of friendship, to feed our affections. For appreciation of beauty, gratitude for ideas, revelations for development of souls."

"Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.' Pray to forgive one another. This is very hard to do but with Christ all things are possible. He directs our our thoughts to parables even at Calvary before the world understood what He said. 'Father forgive them for they know not what they do.' We owe to Him our service, our talents, worship and our prayers."

"Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.' Jesus knew so well the many temptations that would come to us. No one need be rich or poor to be tempted. Not always of money but of the vile and corrupt substance of this world."

"As we become tempted we ought to pray in order to gain the pure and right privilege of life to be set free of all things that are evil in the sight of God. No wonder the disciples asked of Him, 'Lord, teach us to pray.' They had noticed this man of God and were amazed at His doctrine and to welcome Him in their midst they had to have power to overcome their wicked ways. Even today we need His guidance to strengthen us and to keep us. Through the darkness of souls this prayer has helped many to believe and to be saved."

"For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever." Amen.

"All things that are mine are thine and thine are mine, saith the Lord. So we have a personal interest in His kingdom for we are joint heirs to Christ."

"In closing this prayer with benediction to His name it is a binding together of God's love to all people. All believers who will have eternal life with Him that will never end."

"Pray Everywhere"
"I have never found a place where it was impossible to pray. I am not able to say that I have always prayed as I ought, that was a failure on my part. God forgive. I have prayed at church, at work, at home, as I sat at the bed of the suffering, as I studied, as I knelt in quiet hours in my room, as I walk the streets and travel the highways."

"No kind of pleasure prohibits prayer. No kind of work prohibits prayer. No outer forces prohibit prayer. No kind of company prohibits prayer. It is a holy privilege that cannot be taken away from us regardless what might befall. God invites you to pray. Jesus taught us how to pray. This is a challenge and let us pray as though the whole world depends upon our prayers. Let us accept this challenge. 'Pray' without ceasing to be meek and humble. Remember we can do nothing of ourselves. The Spirit of God is in all places at all times. He doeth the work yet with humility of self, but with boldness in Christ. 'Still let us pray.'"

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Public School Building Authority has received an unofficial low bid of $2,918 for paving at a secondary school in the Ridley Twp. school district, Delaware County.

The apparent low bid was submitted Thursday by John DiFelice and Son Inc., Ardmore.

created 40 cents.

The Class I price formula affects farmers in the Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del., area. Since it was established in April, 1951, it has been changed 10 times.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Make-Believe

This is make-believe . . . tying a bundle to a stick and pretending to set forth upon a great journey. His lively little imagination glows as he thinks of all the things that will happen on his adventure. Maybe, right around that bend in the road, he'll run smack into a big brown bear . . .

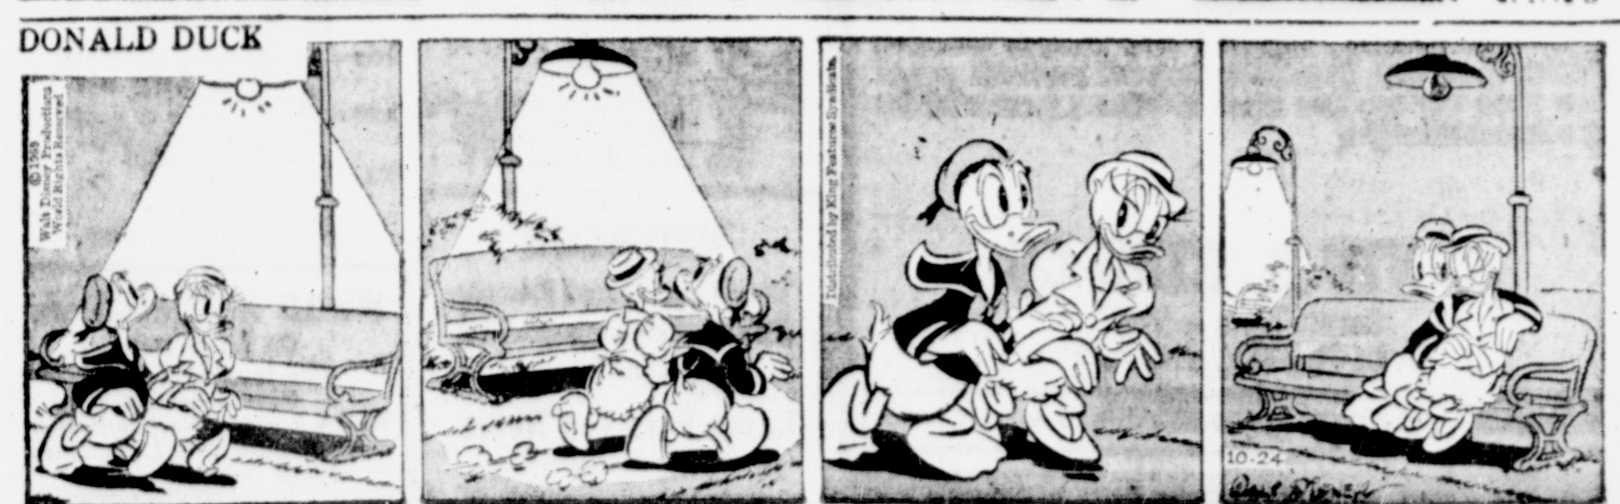

And because that's a "scary" idea, he takes off his hat, puts down his bundle, and contents himself with playing blocks in the middle of the living room floor. Yes . . . it's fun to make-believe. But only when you can do it right in the safety of your own home!

Home, just now, is his place. In it, he feels a wonderful sense of security, basking in his parents' love, knowing by instinct that they are there to help and guide him. At night when he kneels to say his prayers, his mother tells him the beautiful story of Christ. She is preparing him for the day when he will go to Church School, when he will become part of the Church. She knows that, during his life, when he actually sets forth upon journeys, the Church will be his home, and that it will help protect and guide him when she cannot.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — The Youth Fellowship of the United Church of Christ will canvass the Fairfield area on Saturday, October 31, to take orders for chicken corn soup. Orders received at this time will be delivered on Saturday, November 7.

Fairfield Cub Scouts, Pack 76, Thursday evening held a Halloween social at St. Mary's Hall. Thirty-eight persons, 22 of whom were Cub Scouts, arrived in costume. Prizes were awarded to each costumed person.

Games and skits were conducted under the direction of Mrs. Lelia Willet and Mrs. Kermit Spence. The meeting was opened by a prayer by Rev. Otto Kroeger. Awards were presented by assistant Cub Scoutmaster, Carl Filsinger, Jr., and are as follows: wolf badge: Andy Slegal, Michael Barclay and David Barclay; gold arrow: Bill Hartman, John Kuhn, Andy Slegal and Michael Barclay; silver arrow: Tommy Kuhn, Don Kuhn and Eddie Kuhn; lion: Roger Benner; Webelos: Ron Miller, J. Myers, and Richard Crist.

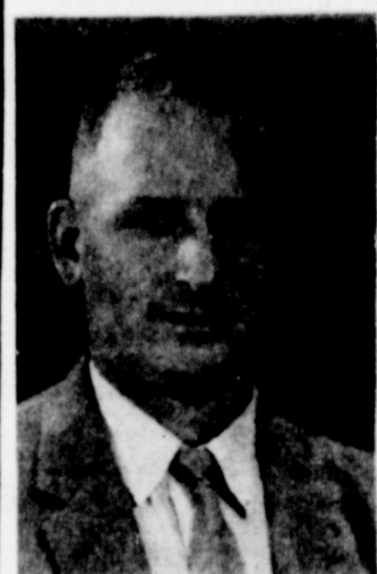

On November 7 the cubs will sponsor a food sale at Newman's Market; on November 11 Fairfield leaders will attend a Cub Scout dinner at Gettysburg, and on November 12, a council meeting will be held at the home of Charles Taylor.

The topic of discussion for the November meeting will be: "The Old Country Store."

The Maryland State House in Annapolis is the oldest state capital building still in use in the United States. It was built in 1772.

Supervisor

Prior to my becoming a Supervisor in 1956, only 1.8 miles of the 33 miles of Cumberland Township roads were paved.

Since 1956 Your Supervisors Have:—

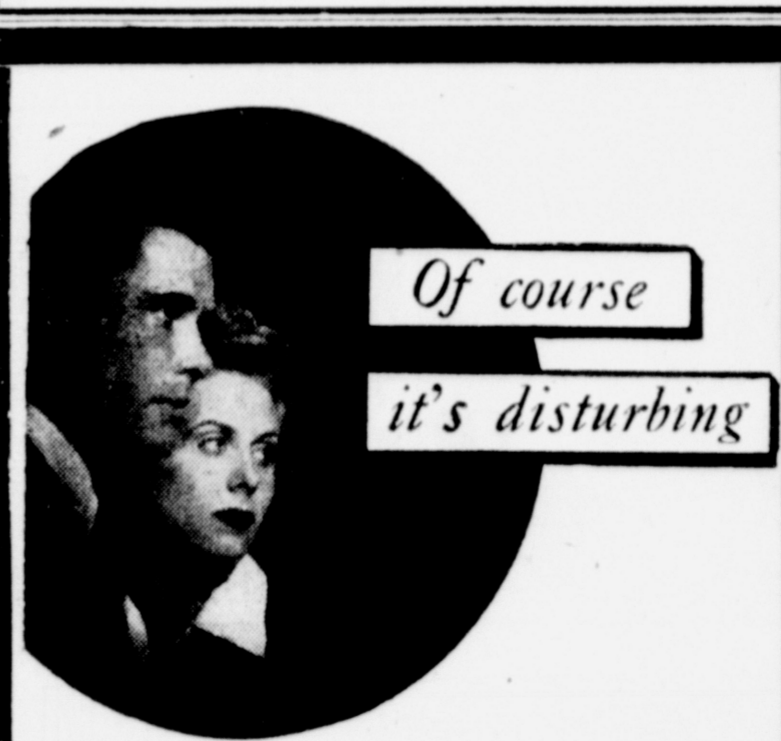

Paved 6.46 miles
Resurfaced and widened . . . 1.8 miles
Oiled and chipped 3.7 miles

And in addition we have purchased modern equipment at a cost of $6,500.00.

All this has been done without increasing the tax of 4 mills (1/13 of your real estate tax), by far the lowest rate in Adams County, and despite the rising cost of materials and labor.

Our record has proven that we can improve your roads and still maintain the lowest tax rate in the county.

In the interest of honest, efficient and progressive operation, YOUR SUPPORT, YOUR INFLUENCE AND YOUR VOTE are respectfully requested.

Of course
it's disturbing

But what a relief and satisfaction when it's done

"Some other time," we say, as somehow we hate to face one of life's most important decisions—the choice of a family cemetery lot and a monument of granite or marble that will mark it for eternity.

But how sensible to choose it now!

Then this family matter will be a family decision. Everyone concerned can have his say. A monument can be erected and the lot landscaped with unhurried care. And, by arranging payments in advance, financial burdens will never fall on survivors when they can least afford it. What a great relief for just a little forethought.
